

K.C.

Person takes to streets with signs

We had a chance for an exclusive interview with the individual who has been walking around Guelph with signs. The transcript is below :

Question: Thank you for meeting with me. Can we start with your name? Who are you?

Answer : I am ‘ ‘.

Q: Like a <space>? ...and how do you pronounce that?

A : Please, feel free to pronounce it any way you like. I don't want any of my statements to be taken as a stance related to gender, religion, race, language or other identifiers.

Q: Is there any group you identify with?

A : (pause) I am human.

Q: Some are saying that you are in essence protesting protests. Is this true?

A : I am not protesting anything. My boards state truths, our common ground.

Q: What is the meaning of the blank board?

A : Sometimes there is nothing to say and it is best to say nothing. The boards are a safe place.

Q: There have been sightings of you mainly on backroads and unpopulated streets. Would you like to comment on why you are not trying to get visibility with a broader audience?

A : People have places to get to, I don't want to add to their stress by creating traffic. I am in no rush. I anticipate these statements to stay true for the foreseeable future.

Q: I really can't think of anything more to say or ask you about.

A : Thank you, that is a great compliment.

A person walks the streets of Guelph with non-controversial signs.

Trucker protests :

Transport minister says blockade must disband to allow truckers to go home

This story continued on Page 22

Fans riot over pre-season win

Police cars overturned and a local Mexican restaurant was forcibly redecorated with a Thai theme

This story continued on Page 33

Protest-o-meter:

A one-stop source for following crucial trends in the most significant protests worldwide since 2017.

This story continued on Page 44